Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 44.]

An act to provide for the appointment of clerks in the office of the Assistant Treasurer at Boston, to fix their salaries, and provide for the absence of the Assistant Treasurer, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the 1st day of January, 1862, in lieu of the clerks [illegible] authorized and provided, the Assistant Treasurer at Boston be and he is hereby authorized to appoint, with the approbation of the Secretary of the Treasury, one chief clerk at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, one disbursing clerk at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and one other clerk at a salary of twelve thousand dollars per annum, and a messenger at a salary of seven hundred dollars per annum; [illegible] for such clerks for the current and next fiscal year [illegible] and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That, in case of the sickness or unavoidable absence of the Assistant Treasurer, he may, in his discretion, authorize the chief clerk to act in his place, and to discharge all the duties required by law of the Assistant Treasurer.

Approved March 19, 1862.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 51.]

An act to reorganize and increase the efficiency of the Medical Department of the Army.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That there shall be added to the present medical corps of the army ten surgeons and ten assistant surgeons to be promoted and appointed under existing laws; twenty medical cadets and as many hospital stewards as the surgeon general may consider necessary for the public service, and that their pay and that of all hospital stewards in the volunteer as well as the regular service shall be $30 per month, to be computed from the passage of this Act. And all medical cadets in the service shall, in addition to their pay, receive one ration per day either in kind or commutation.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the surgeon general to be appointed under this act shall have the rank, pay and emoluments of a brigadier general. There shall be one assistant surgeon general and one medical inspector general of hospitals, each with the rank, pay and emoluments of a colonel of cavalry, and the medical inspector general shall have, under the direction of the surgeon general, the supervision of all that relates to the sanitary condition of the army, whether in transports, quarters or camps, and of the hygiene, police, discipline and efficiency of field and general hospitals, under such regulations as may hereafter be established.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be eight medical inspectors, with the rank, pay and emoluments each of a lieutenant-colonel of cavalry, and who shall be charged with the duty of inspecting the sanitary condition of transports, quarters and camps, of field and general hospitals, who shall report to the medical inspector general, under such regulations as may hereafter be established, all circumstances relating to the sanitary condition and wants of troops and of hospitals, and to the skill, efficiency and good conduct of the officers and attendants connected with the medical department.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the surgeon general, the assistant surgeon general, medical inspector general, and medical inspectors, shall immediately after the passage of this act be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the [illegible] army, or from the surgeons in the volunteer service, without regard to their rank when so selected, but with sole regard to qualifications.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the medical purveyors shall be charged, under the direction of the surgeon general, with the selection and purchase of all medical supplies, including new standard preparations, and of all books, instruments, hospital stores, furniture, and other articles required for the sick and wounded of the army. In all cases of emergency they may provide such additional means to transfer the sick and wounded of the army, and may transport such medical supplies as circumstances may render necessary, under such regulations as may hereafter be established, and shall make prompt and immediate issues upon all special requisitions made upon them under such circumstances by medical officers, and the special requisitions shall consist simply of a list of the articles required, the quantities required, dated, and signed by the medical officers requiring them.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That whenever the inspector general, or any one of the medical inspectors, shall report any officer of the medical corps as disqualified, by age or otherwise, for promotion to a higher grade, or unfitted for the performance of his professional duties, he shall be reported by the surgeon general for examination to a medical board, as provided by the 17th section of the Act approved August 3d, 1861.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That the provisions of this Act shall continue and be in force during the existence of the present rebellion, and no longer: Provided, however, That when this Act shall expire, all officers who shall have been promoted from the medical staff of the army under this Act shall retain their respective rank in the army, with such promotion as they would have been entitled to.

Approved April 16, 1862.

[PUBLIC—No. 5[illegible].]

An Act making an additional appropriation for the naval service for the year ending June thirty, eighteen hundred and sixty two.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the following sums be and they are hereby appropriated, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the service of the year eighteen hundred and sixty two.

For the purchase of vessels and necessary alterations in [illegible] fitting them for service, two million five hundred and thirty thousand dollars.

For the purchase of additional vessels, two million of dollars.

For the purchase of nautical instruments, books, maps, and charts, twenty thousand dollars.

For repairs at the Observatory, freight, and transportation, three thousand dollars.

For the ordnance foundry at the Washington navy yard, [illegible] thousand dollars.

For ordnance, one million dollars.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the sum of seven hundred and eighty three thousand two hundred and ninety [illegible] dollars, being the amount necessary to be provided, as estimated by a board appointed for that purpose, to pay for and finish the Stevens battery now partially constructed at Hoboken, New Jersey, be and the same is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated for the immediate completion of said battery: Provided, That in the contract for the completion of said vessel it shall be stipulated that no part of the money claimed by Edwin A. Stevens to have been heretofore expended by him upon said vessel shall be refunded until the amount of said claim shall be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Navy, and the payment of said sum shall be contingent on the success of said vessel as an iron-clad, sea-going war steamer, to be determined by the President, and each contract shall stipulate the time within which said vessel shall be completed: Provided, nevertheless, That said money shall not be expended unless the Secretary of the Navy is of opinion that the same will secure to the public service an efficient steam battery.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the sum of thirteen millions of dollars be appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to enable the Secretary of the Navy to construct iron-clad steam vessels of war.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Navy be authorized to commute the navy ration of coffee and sugar for the extract of coffee combined with milk and sugar, to be procured in the same manner and under like restrictions and guaranties as are preserved meats, pickles, butter and desiccated vegetables, if he shall believe it will be conducive to the health and comfort of the navy, and not more expensive to the Government than the present ration, and if it shall be acceptable to the men.

Approved April 17, 1862.

Colonel Madison Miller of Missouri, and Major Stone of Iowa, Union prisoners captured at Shiloh, have returned to Washington from Petersburg, Va. They came to Washington on parole some weeks ago, by consent of the rebel Government, to negotiate a general exchange of prisoners. They failed, and went back to the Confederates to give themselves up. General Dix was subsequently directed to accept the Confederate proposition, which only required that Gen. Buckner should be included by the National Government in its list of prisoners to be surrendered. When this news reached Petersburg, Colonel Miller and Major Stone, at the instance of the rebel Secretary of War, returned to Washington to facilitate a matter so desirable to suffering prisoners on both sides. Miller says there are 20,000 Union prisoners in the South, and that their food is deficient and their suffering great. He says, further, that the rebels are jubilant over their late fight; that conscription is rigidly enforced, and their army at Richmond very large, though none of Beauregard's army is there. He says a Confederate newspaper has lately urged the Government to strike now, because they have all the men they can ever get in the field, and from this time their number must decrease, while the Union armies will increase. The Petersburg Express of Monday is disgusted that Miller and Stone should have been allowed to pass about that town so freely.

I AM FOR THE GOVERNMENT. John A. Dix gives expression to the following noble sentiments, which it would be well for those men to imitate who are struggling to make party greater than patriotism:

"I am for supporting the Government. I do not ask who administers it. It is the Government of my country, and as such I shall give it in this extremity all the support in my power. I regard the pending contest with secessionists as a death struggle for constitutional liberty and law."

This is the language of an old partisan statesman. But when the life of his Government is assailed, when the fair mansion of his fathers is filled with thieves and traitors, who are striving to cut the throat of the nation, to despoil the Constitution and destroy the glorious ensign of a free Republic, then he is not a child clinging to party, or an ass in party harness, braying the claims of a habeas corpus protection to skulking treason, but, as a man and as a patriot, he rises up to the full stature of a national soldier, giving the hand of fellowship to any and all who stand by the flag of the Union.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

THURSDAY MORNING, AUG 28 1862

Who are Playing into the Hands of the Enemy?

We sometimes hear a man say that all democrats are Union men. Scan this man a little and you will find that he held that the party which nominated J. C. Breckinridge for President and Joe Lane for Vice President, was the only true democratic party. Now, be it remembered, that the strength of that party came from the South—it only numbered a few members in the Northern States, and these were either such as had engaged office through the favor of this Southern party, or those who had emigrated from the South, and whose sympathies were all there and hostile to the people of the North; or, they were men who hoped for office through the success of the Southern candidates in the then coming Presidential election. All these three parties here contended strenuously that the Convention which nominated Breckinridge for President and Lane for Vice President, represented the true and only democratic party.

Where are the leaders and nineteen twentieths of the rank and file of that democratic party now? Where would the balance of that party found in the North be—with a few rare and praise worthy exceptions—if the democratic party of the South had been successful in their efforts to break up the Government?

We have every right to believe that they would be as deep dyed traitors as those who fired upon the National Flag at Sumter, or as those who, in all the phases of this terrible rebellion, have aimed to crush the Government of the United States.

We are aware that now—when it is found that the Government of the United States can and will sustain itself—that men who voted for the Breckinridge ticket, and who, when that ticket was defeated, justified the rebellious movements of the South—claimed that it should of right crush the free spirit of the North, should compel Lincoln to resign the position in which the people had placed him; should force the Government to compromise with rebels with arms in their hands, and these men, at a later period, rejoiced in the success of traitors—prophesied the entire accomplishment of their project of establishing a Government on the ruins of the Republic, declared that the Government would never replace her flags on the positions in the South whence they had been struck down by rebels, we say, of these men, that we are now aware that those men call themselves democrats, and are, in truth, the fag end, the mere camp followers of the Breckinridge and Lane rebels, and that they insult common sense BY CLAIMING TO BE UNION MEN!

And these men are still avowing their wishes for the destruction of our armies—are seeking in all possible ways to defame the Constitutional authorities—are opposing every important measure, be it what it may, to crush treason and to sustain our National existence, and there are now those among us who say that such men are good enough democrats and Union men for them!

Are such men true and faithful to the Government which protects them? Have we not reason to believe that they are in heart and soul traitors to our Government? Would we be safe from their overt sympathy were they in a position in which, with arms in their hands, they could use them with effect against the Star Spangled Banner which we worship?

It is folly, wickedness, to talk of a democratic, republican or whig party now. The condition of the times has compelled the people of this Nation to divide into two parties—UNION and DISUNION. When men talk of democracy and seek to use that sacred and time-honored name to advance the interests of rebellion, remotely or directly, it is using it for the cover of a damnable crime. The democratic party represented by the Convention which nominated Breckinridge and Lane, perished as such, when nineteen twentieths of that party entered the field of war to break up the Government they could not control. The heads of that organization do not outrage decency now by claiming to be a democratic party.

They call themselves CONFEDERATES FOR THE DESTRUCTION OF OUR GOVERNMENT, and those men here who under all the circumstances of the day sympathize with them would act a more manly part than they now do, were they to follow the lead of their Democratic brethren South and also call themselves CONFEDERATES.

No man can be a true Union man, unless he is in favor of sustaining the Constitutional Government and fairly supports the measures of that Government to put down rebellion.—No man who will not do this without a condition—is a true and faithful Union man.

And this conclusion will appear more manifest as time progresses. This country and this Government are for white men—for the development of all the capabilities of white men, whether they are of labor or of mind. All honor to the fathers of our Constitution and the founders of our Government.

[illegible] in Philadelphia [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] at the Mint.

Thursday [illegible] the day assigned for the exchange at the Mint of nickels for U. S. Treasury Notes, the doors were [illegible] with an anxious crowd [illegible] and by twelve o'clock [illegible] carry the cents [illegible] the Mint [illegible] half of the applicants [illegible]. We understand that [illegible] worth of cents [illegible] Mint making two thousand dollars worth [illegible]. About two [illegible] New York, Boston and other [illegible] four thousand dollars worth [illegible] distribution in Philadelphia. [illegible] worth are given to a [illegible] at the Mint [illegible] in the line, and by this means [illegible] amount of cents.

THE REBEL PLANS.—[illegible] the following [illegible] of the rebels.

We have [illegible] military leaders [illegible] the 4th and 5th instant [illegible] they came to the conclusion [illegible] lose no more territory. [illegible] was strongly [illegible] Beauregard advised the invasion of the North at three points, namely, from [illegible] Williamsport into Pennsylvania [illegible] ville and Cincinnati [illegible] and from Paducah and Cairo [illegible].

It is alleged that the following plan of operations for the remainder [illegible] campaign was agreed upon:

First. The immediate [illegible] the James river [illegible] McClellan to [illegible] communication with the Government and [illegible] transportation of reinforcements and [illegible] supplies.

Second. The [illegible] Yorktown and the entire Peninsula.

Third. The recovery of the whole territory of Virginia and the suppression of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Fourth. The recovery of New Orleans, Memphis and the Mississippi river, and the expulsion of the Federal troops from Tennessee and Kentucky.

When these objects had been accomplished, the Lee and Beauregard plan was proposed:

Fifth—to make the Potomac and Ohio rivers at once the rebel base of operations and frontier line, and to transfer the seat of war from Virginia to Maryland.

Sixth—To hurl upon Washington from Richmond a column of 200,000 troops.

By the capture of that city, the [illegible] of Baltimore and the invasion of the North at the three points named above, [illegible] turn the invaders, they hope to make it necessary for us to keep at home for the defense of our cities fully 500,000 troops.

As late as Thursday last the Southern army under General Bragg was at Tupelo, except one division which [illegible] and knew not in what direction.

Some affected to have information that Bragg's army had invested Bolivar, but all such reports are regarded as premature. Bragg's army was said to be preparing for a move, but the direction it was intimated was Nashville.

SUPPRESSED.—The Secretary of War, the liberal patriotic and heroic Stanton, who was seized with a "big scare" on the retreat of Gen Banks and ordered out the entire militia of a number of States for the protection of his own precious person, has muzzled another editor—John W. [illegible], editor of the Circleville (Ohio) Watchman, who has been arrested and his office forcibly closed.—[illegible]

The Detroit Daily Tribune says the arrest of the editor of the Circleville (Ohio) Watchman was ordered because of the republication of an editorial on Gen. Butler [illegible] in New Orleans, containing this sentence:

Is there not in New Orleans some man brave enough to rid the earth of such a monstrous hellhound? The Government is determined not to permit journals published in loyal States thus to incite the assassination of our Generals.

ANECDOTE OF THE PRESIDENT.—A characteristic story is told of the President's reception of callers yesterday. A number of persons were waiting in the anteroom of the Executive mansion, impatient at the time occupied by one who had enjoyed an audience of [illegible] a half hour, when as he retired the President came out, and looking around, said: "I want to make a little speech. You all want to see me on business. It is a matter of no importance to me whether I spend my time with a half dozen or with the whole of you, but it is of importance to you. Therefore when you come in, please don't stay long." The hint was not lost [illegible] little speech. It is worth [illegible] Wash. Cor. N. Y. World.

PROGRESS OF VOLUNTEERING.—The [illegible] publishes accounts [illegible] in the Middle and New England States, and the rapidity with which the [illegible] filling up by volunteering [illegible] that the 600,000 men first called for will be filled up without difficulty. In Massachusetts [illegible] the various towns [illegible] and were furnishing [illegible] ranging from $50 to $150. The war spirit was unanimous [illegible] forward with alacrity to volunteer for the Union. New York and Pennsylvania [illegible] to furnish their full complement of men without resorting to drafting.

THE UNION AS IT WAS AND THE CONSTITUTION AS IT IS.—It is a singular fact, which may be proved by a very little observation, that the class of persons in whose mouths the expression is most frequently to be found were originally sympathizers with secession, or at best conditional Union men. And the expression is almost invariably [illegible] to condemn and rebuke those who are in arms against the Government, and carrying on the war [illegible] against those who [illegible] ing to put down the rebellion.

Exchange on Eastern [illegible] twelve per cent discount for bills payable in currency.

To whom are we indebted for the war that is hanging its crape upon every [illegible]? Breckinridge Democracy.—[illegible]

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

Dates to August 23d.

MARYSVILLE via YREKA, Aug 23.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20th.—The rumored evacuation of Cumberland Gap, and movements of the rebels towards Knoxville, Tenn., and [illegible] Kentucky have caused great activity in military circles here. Troops are constantly arriving.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. [illegible].—The [illegible] engagement at Lone Jack, on Friday, [illegible] killed and wounded [illegible] the balance of the force [illegible] Lexington. The artillery [illegible].

During the fight at Independence Mr. [illegible] Hughes [illegible] killed. The rest [illegible] and Col. Bird and Col. Thompson [illegible] killed and [illegible] wounded [illegible] sixty killed and eleven wounded.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—A gentleman just [illegible] 2000 [illegible] 1000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. [illegible].—150 Federal prisoners [illegible] at Bull Run and other points [illegible] from South Carolina [illegible].

[illegible] Consul of the Netherlands [illegible] seized by Gen Butler [illegible] returned to the French Consul [illegible] merchants of New Orleans [illegible].

Advices from Matamoras state that 1,000 French troops [illegible] Mexico [illegible].

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The Tribune's correspondent [illegible] Headquarters Army [illegible] Virginia at Cedar Mountain says the army is again on the march, and that may be a [illegible]. An order was issued today [illegible] tents and baggage [illegible].

We are [illegible] the whole army of Virginia [illegible].

All sorts of rumors [illegible] afloat that the whole army of Richmond is advancing, and the rebels are attempting to turn our left flank. In a word they are marching straight on to Fredericksburg and Washington. Thus threatened on the left flank and in front by an army of superior numbers to our own, Pope's army retreats and fights by daylight. It is supposed he will cross the Rappahannock, but when on the north bank he will no longer retreat.

The Times letter from Fortress Monroe of the [illegible] says the army is already in process of embarkation for their field of operation. Paintsville, Kentucky, is in possession of the rebels of Humphrey Marshall's advance. It seems to be Humphrey's intention to take possession of the Big Sandy region.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 18.—Guerillas yesterday destroyed the ferry between here and Mound City. The Fourth division of Gen Curtis' army and Gen. Hovey left Helena on the 11th for Clarendon, White river, where a large body of rebels are encamped. The latter fled in the direction of Little Rock. Cavalry were sent in pursuit.

NEW YORK, Aug 21st.—The Columbia has arrived from Havana. The yellow fever had been raging fearfully for the past month.

CULPEPER, August 19th.—It was expected the army would cross the Rappahannock by 10 o'clock, but passage of trains has been so delayed it will not be attempted. Banks and McDowell's corps are both coming up. They will await the arrival of Sigel, who covers the rear. As I write masses of men are pouring on swiftly but orderly, marching along narrow road and over fields towards town. Sigel is not expected till noon. If nothing happens no crossing will be attempted till he comes in. In spite of all delays there has been no panic among trains.

NEW YORK, August 22.—It is reported that the forces of McClellan, Burnside and Pope have formed a junction, it is believed, in the vicinity of Aquia creek.

CAIRO, August 22.—An intercepted letter from Hindman to the rebel Secretary of War states that he has 18,000 well armed infantry, 6000 cavalry and 44 pieces of artillery at Little Rock, Arkansas.

He proposes awaiting an attack from Curtis instead of attacking him at Helena. He intends to exterminate Curtis and then push forward to the Missouri river.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 22.—Federal Col. Wright passed through Carthage yesterday in hot pursuit of guerrillas under Coffee, Page and Quantrel. The Kansas troops, under Gen. Blunt, were only a few miles behind pressing on rapidly.

CAIRO, Aug. 20.—The steamer Dickey from Helena, Ark., reports all quiet. In a slight skirmish on the 16th, thirteen miles from Memphis, the rebels were routed.

Southland Kentucky and Clarksville, Tennessee, have been taken by the rebels 600 strong. [illegible] forces are reported to be marching on Fort Henry.

FORT DONELSON, August 19th.—The rebel force that captured Clarksville are reported to be moving on this place. There are only 150 effective men here. Reinforcements have been asked for.

NEW MADRID, Mo., Aug. 20.—A force of cavalry from this post, while on an expedition to Charleston, attacked a rebel camp on White Oak Ridge, west of Hickland, killed four and captured fourteen, including three Captains, took 27 horses and 40 stand of arms. A Federal Captain and one private were killed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The Herald editorially says: We are inclined to expect that General Butler's next field of operations will be South Carolina, and that with the restoration of the old flag over the Custom House, Charleston will not be long be under [illegible] discipline.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The Treasury Department will commence today the delivery of the new postal currency. It will be issued at the rate of $27,000 a day.

EVANSVILLE, Aug. 20.—The steamers St. Paul and Callie were burned by guerrillas on the night of the 18th at the mouth of Hurricane creek, fifty miles above Fort Henry. The St. Paul was heavily laden with Government stores. [illegible] when she was attacked by guerrillas thirty in number. The crew being unguarded were compelled to surrender. The guerrillas after removing the furniture and silver ware set fire to both boats. The crews were released on parole.

COLUMBUS (Ohio), Aug. 20.—A dispatch from Gen. Morgan at Cumberland Gap, says there is undue excitement on the subject of the rebel demonstration in East Tennessee, and adds there is no cause for anxiety.

BRAN, SHORTS and MIDDLINGS [illegible] H. W.

Over the Plains by way of Fort Benton

We find in the Walla Walla Statesman the following interesting account of a trip made by a party of emigrants from St. Louis to Walla Walla via Fort Benton and Lieut. Mullan's wagon road. They arrived at Fort Benton on steamers from St. Louis, having left the latter place on the 15th of May. They give a good opinion of the route and recommend it to all persons traveling across the plains.

WALLA WALLA, W. T., Aug. 14, 1862.

We, the undersigned passengers and emigrants from St. Louis to Walla Walla, being as we learn the first party from the Atlantic States that have crossed the Rocky mountains by the new emigrant route opened by Lieut. Mullan from Fort Benton to Fort Walla Walla, deem it a duty to ourselves and friends to express our opinion and appreciation of this new and shortest route of travel from the Missouri to the North Pacific coast.

We left St. Louis May 15th with a party of 350 passengers on four steamers for Fort Benton, bound thence for Walla Walla, Deer Lodge, Bitter Root valley, and the Salmon river gold mines. Our trip up the Missouri river was in every respect a pleasant excursion, fraught with health, comfort, and exciting novelties. Reaching Fort Benton we followed Lieut. Mullan's wagon road across the mountains, reaching Walla Walla on the 11th of August, after a delay of three weeks at the Deer Lodge gold mines. The wagon road passes through an interesting region of the Rocky mountains. Leaving the main Missouri it traverses many of her smaller tributaries from the north till it reaches the Rocky mountains by a low, easy pass or mere depression in the range, when it reaches the head waters of the Columbia at the Little Blackfoot river, whence to Snake river it follows the valleys of continuous water courses, which have afforded a good location for the road with camp grounds for grass, wood and water at convenient distances. The road has involved much heavy work, through dense forests, with much bridging in the Bitter Root range, and with long mountain side cuts.

In the valleys of the St. Regis Borgia, Hellsgate and Big Blackfoot are some fifty odd bridges. There are four ferries on the line, at Snake river, Spokane, Bitter Root and San Riverari, Dacotah Territory. The last three streams are fordable in low water. Lieut. Mullan has been engaged in the survey and construction of this road since 1853, a period of nine years, employing a force of two hundred men—half citizens and half soldiers, and assisted by Capt. Marsh and Dr. Hammond, U. S. Army, Mr. David Williamson, superintending engineer, Mr. Sohon, interpreter and artist, and Mr. Kolecki, draughtsman.

The Indians along the line of route are the Blackfoot, Cœur d'Alenes, Spokanes and Palouses, but all have treated us friendly, and we made the trip through their country without molestation, though we would deem it wise and prudent hereafter for the Government to have troops on the line every year to protect the incoming emigration in case of need, and in order to prevent any disturbances that might eventuate in an Indian outbreak. We would say to our friends, therefore, they need have no fear from Indians, but if they desire a trip for health, pleasure and bold Rocky mountain scenery, to leave St. Louis on the steamers that make the trip annually to Fort Benton, and judge for themselves. When we reached the Deer Lodge valley we were met by two expressmen sent by Lieut. Mullan to notify us that he would await our arrival on the road and extend what protection and aid we needed, and which we availed ourselves of; and we desire to bear testimony to the kind reception that we have met with from him and the members of his expedition. Reaching his camp, he cheerfully gave us provisions free of cost, transported our baggage and stores in his wagons, and afforded us every aid we needed.

One of the important localities along the line is the Cœur d'Alene Mission, established by the Jesuit Priests as early as 1843. Here we were treated with cordiality and kindness. The Fathers are sedulously endeavoring to reclaim the Indian from his wild, nomadic life. Their fields look rich and healthy—they have a Church, flouring mill and sufficient houses for their abode and comfort; also, some three hundred acres under fence and cultivation, with many small Indian farms in the Mission valley. A small settlement is established in the Hellgate and in the Deer Lodge valleys, where a few Americans, French, and others have made farms, with bands of horses and horned stock. Their crops, though small, look well. Though the settlements are few and isolated, yet there are many sites and sections that are suited for mining and other purposes. Mill sites may be had upon all the mountain streams, with a forest growth equal to that of any portion of the country—pine, fir, cedar and spruce, especially abound. The grazing advantages are most excellent, and the day will come when heavy freights of wool will be shipped to the St. Louis market. As yet the mineral resources of the country are not known. At present some miners are at work on the American Fork of the Hellgate river, better known as the Deer Lodge mines, but as yet their returns do not warrant any certainty as to the quantity of gold in the country. These mines might well repay those now resident in the country, but do not warrant any rush thither for those doing well elsewhere. We should have remained in these mines ourselves had we thought the prospects would have warranted.

There are many points of natural scenery along the route that would well repay the tourist and traveler, and afford fine subjects for the pencil of the Artist. Among them are the Great Falls of the Missouri, the Hot Springs, mounds of the Deer Lodge valley, the Cœur d'Alene and Spokan Falls, and Falls of the Palouse, with many special views of the Rocky Mountain range.

Both the eastern and western plains that afford approaches to the Rocky Mountains are vast. Seas of prairie cut by water-courses, or dotted here and there by lakes, buttes or mounds thrown together by the great hand of nature in a wild, and at times, rugged humor. The prairie sections in this region are often covered with timber, and is either high table land or rolling hills covered with grass. The streams are filled with trout weighing from one to six pounds, which have afforded us rare pleasure in their capture. No wild fruit is found with the exception of berries of many varieties, which are abundant. Game from the buffalo to the pheasant is found on the trip across. Coal is said to extend sixty miles north of Fort Benton, and along the Missouri.

Though much heavy work has been done on the road from Fort Benton to Walla Walla, yet the road could be still farther improved by erecting additional bridges, cutting the road broad through the Bitter Root range, and diminishing the grades, particularly from Deer Lodge to Fort Benton, should receive additional work. We do not disparage what has been done, for the amount and character of the work surpassed what we were prepared to find, but we desire candidly to state that so important a line from the States to the Pacific should be rendered a first class road, and which in time will enable persons with their families to make the trip from the Missouri to Walla Walla in thirty days easily and comfortably.

As the road is in close proximity to the English border, and one which in peace or war could be advantageously used by the English Government to [illegible] the Canadas with its North Pacific possession, it becomes a matter of national necessity that our own Government should look timely to its further improvement, and [illegible] which its geographical location and importance so justly warrants. The [illegible] complications that are not unlikely to [illegible] with the English Government [illegible] present or future troubles would [illegible] our Government the duty of bestowing early and especial attention to this new route across the country. We [illegible] to our friends in the Atlantic States and elsewhere that if they wish to find a trip for pleasure, health, or [illegible] new homes on the waters of the Pacific, [illegible] the steamers that leave annually for Fort Benton, and there procure [illegible] to travel overland thence to Walla Walla, at which point they again take steamers for Oregon, California or any port along the coast, and they will enjoy [illegible] sojourn at Saratoga, Niagara, or the usual points resorted to in the East [illegible].

TWENTY-TWO EMIGRANTS.

DISAPPOINTED LOVE AND DIABOLICAL REVENGE.—A man applied to the Committee of Equalization, says the San Francisco Herald, to have the name of another man placed on the roll of the militia subject to draft. He said that the fellow had got his girl away from him and married her, and he "meant to get even" if it cost him fifty dollars. If he could get his successful rival drafted and shot, he was willing to die at once contented and happy.

The Unionists of Schuyler Colfax's district in Indiana, have endorsed his past course heartily and renominated him for Congress.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S

Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY

Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, late Lecturer on Diseases of the Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College [illegible].

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

OFFICE HOURS—From 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed or no pay. Consultation by letter or otherwise FREE.

Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lung, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs, such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the [illegible] catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of Self Abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of males and females treated on principles established by the Institute, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of California, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY—San Francisco, Sir:—[illegible] [illegible]

entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but though I might be able to do something to check the [illegible] and bend and strengthen my [illegible] I would not be excited and tremble at every thing. Now that you know what I expected you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from the [illegible] and the removal of those sores and blotches from my [illegible] and [illegible] the entire stoppage of [illegible] which [illegible] were bringing me to the same [illegible] sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully [illegible] my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel. [illegible] to send you twenty dollars over your charge, and the kindest [illegible] If you think anybody will be benefited you may publish this letter in the newspapers. Do receive [illegible] truly yours, THOMAS HARDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

[illegible]—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation [illegible] act of scientific skill but that of humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly, and from causes unknown to me was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon a thorough medical treatment and the discouragement which I met with on attempting it soon became such (as it was thought to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown to the ground without the slightest warning, and although unable to feel the agonies, I yet despised the miserable [illegible] and soon learned to look upon those who would render me street of shelter me from danger as enemies [illegible] While in this state and having previous to my affliction tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called on Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and [illegible] reward him for his services, regardless, at which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it [illegible] myself and my afflicted to make this case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.

SPERMATORRHOEA or LOCAL WEAKNESS, nervous debility, lassitude, low spirits, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapability for labor and study, dullness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges, pains in the side, affections of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual and other infirmities in man, are cured by the justly celebrated physician and surgeon, Dr. L.
